Crumbling rocks, mud

- Gaping cracks, river-like water flow from atop Chamundi Hill pose risk
- IISc. Bengaluru Geo Tech team visits Hill; to advise restoration angles

The area circled in red shows the spot at Chamundi Hill where the landslide took place due to heavy rains on Oct. 20, 2021. The Hill road has been damaged further and the above picture was captured this morning. [Pic. by M.N. Lakshminarayana Yadav]

Mysuru, Nov. 6 (RK&BCT)- Within a span of 18 days, a portion of Chamundi Hill — between View Point and Nandi Statue — has collapsed thrice, increasing the risk to motorists and villagers up the Hill. Though traffic has been closed on the collapsed stretch, gaping cracks at many places on the road, crumbling rocks and mud, river-like flow of water have caused deep safety concerns. The first landslide occurred on Oct. 20, 2021 near the spot where a massive slip had occurred in 2019. It was presumed to be a minor slide and authorities had expressed confidence that the stretch can be repaired as it was done in 2019. But heavy rains and continuous water seepage belied the theory of 'easy repairs' and the landslide widened, shrinking the road by 80 percent on Oct. 31. Due to incessant rains, water flowed like a river from hilltop to several low-lying areas at the foothill including Gundurao Nagar, Pinjrapole and Race Course Road and one more landslide occurred on Nov. 4, just 10 metres away from Oct. 20 landslide area.

City sculptor Arun Yogiraj invited to meet Modi

Prime Minister impressed by the aesthetic and artistic value of Adi Shankaracharya Statue

City sculptor Arun Yogiraj with 2-ft prototype of Adi Shankaracharya in sitting posture. Picture right shows Prime Minister Modi offering prayers after unveiling the 12-feet 3D statue of Adi Shankaracharya at Kedarnath yesterday. The statue has been placed in such a way that River Mandakini touches it before flowing further.

Mysuru, Nov. 6 (BCT)- City sculptor Arun Yogiraj, who carved the 12-feet 3D statue of Adi Guru Shankaracharya in sitting posture — which was unveiled by Prime Minister Narendra Modi yesterday at the Kedarnath Temple in Rudraprayag district of Uttarakhand — is awaiting the biggest moment of his life of personally meeting Modi at his Office in New Delhi.

"I got a call from the Prime Minister's Office (PMO) where an officer told me that the PM was impressed by the way the Shankaracharya statue was carved after months of painstaking work. The officer told me that Modi has expressed his wish to meet me in person," Arun Yogiraj told Star of Mysore this morning.

The officer told Arun that the PM would have a one-on-one meeting with him soon and the dates would be informed in advance. "I am excited to meet the PM who is relentlessly striving for the welfare of his subjects and this would be the biggest moment of my life," he said. "What is happier than the PM himself saying that he was impressed with the artistic statue," the sculptor added.

The statue of Adi Guru Shankaracharya, which is made from Chlorite Schist Stone (Krishna Shile), has been reconstructed after its destruction in the 2013 Uttarakhand floods.

LKG and UKG classes to commence from Nov.8

Bengaluru, Nov. 6- Ending the long wait on announcement of re-opening of nursery classes, the State Government on Thursday declared that LKG and UKG classes will commence from Nov. 8.

The announcement comes just a couple of days after the Government said that Anganwadi Kendras across the State will open from Nov.8.

The Department of Public Instruction has issued a circular in this regard. According to the circular, LKG and UKG classes in all Government, aided and unaided Pre-Primary and Primary Schools will commence from Monday.

Classes will take place from 9.30 am to 3.30 pm from Monday to Friday in all taluks of the State where COVID test positivity rate is less than 2 percent.

The Department has also issued COVID precautionary guidelines, according to which children are required to bring consent letter from their parents and undergo daily thermal screening at the School entrance.

Also, all School teachers and staff should have been vaccinated with 2 doses. All children and teachers should compulsorily wear face mask and teachers aged above 50 years should have to wear a face shield.

Minister for Primary and Secondary Education B.C. Nagesh said that with the opening of KG classes, the academic activities (2021-22) at all levels have fully begun in the State. Pointing out that the 9th and 10th standards were started from Aug.23, 6th to 8th standards from Sept.6 and classes 1 to 5 from Oct.25, Nagesh said that children are required to bring drinking water and food from their homes.

Stating that all Schools are asked to maintain COVID appropriate behaviour and follow Government SOPs, he said that parents have been told not to bring their wards to Schools if they have COVID symptoms such as cough, cold, fever, running nose and breathing problems.

He further said that all other children of the School should be tested for the virus if even a single child tests positive and such Schools should compulsory sanitise their premises in order to check the spread of the virus.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

Road traffic in India is chaotic at the best of times. Most cities have acquired unsustainable levels of vehicle population and face the consequences in the form of impossible traffic gridlocks. The solutions that States propose too often are short-sighted and short-term — more flyovers, expensive metro rail projects and the like — rather than focus on more difficult but necessary long-term ones including better quality, frequent and affordable public transit options. This ought to include investment in facilitating non-motorised transport options including cycling and walking. The way forward is to adopt an integrated approach by States and civic bodies that puts focus on public and non-motorised transit options. They should bring local residents, vendors and businesses on-board to ensure good pedestrian and cycle pathways that are universally accessible to aged and disabled persons are not exceptions but the norm. Only a long-term bottom-up approach centring users will ensure liveable and even 'smart' cities.

Narrowest river is just a few centimetres wide

Mongolia Plateau: The Hualai River, in China, is apparently the narrowest river in the world, measuring only a few centimetres at its widest point.

At its widest point, the Amazon is more than 6 miles wide during the dry season and a whopping 24 miles wide during the rainy season. It's by far the widest river in the world, but although there are plenty of other rivers at least a mile-wide at their widest point, width is not a defining characteristic of a river. In fact, there's actually a river in China so narrow that you can easily step over it. Hualai River, on the Inner Mongolia Plateau in north China, is over 17-kilometers-long but has an average width of just 15 centimetres. At its narrowest, it is just 4-cm-wide.

It's hard to believe that a river like Hualai actually exists, but according to Chinese experts, it has been flowing through the Gongger grassland for at least 10,000 years. Apparently, it stems from an underground spring and flows into the Dalai Nur Lake in the Hexigten Grasslands nature reserve.

Helmets to make babies heads round

Beijing: In what can be termed as a disturbing new trend, Chinese parents are allegedly resorting to strapping-helmets and moulds to make their babies have round heads.

The latest craze to hit China involves parents taking advantage of their babies' soft skulls to make sure that they have round heads, instead of flat ones. A number of companies have taken advantage of the bizarre trend by offering a variety of head-correcting products. Ironically, flat heads were once considered lucky that children were forced to sleep with their heads on books, but the shape is out of style.

REALLY...?

- Indian weddings are often colourful extended occasions that can last for anything from 3 days to a full week. The ceremonies start with the Ganesh puja. Usually, a private ceremony takes place with the couple and their close families to honour good fortune, followed by mehendi ceremony the next day where henna patterns are painted on the bride and her female friends and family. That evening, there's often the sangeet, a musical night to welcome all the wedding guests, with the main ceremony and reception happening on the third day.

A potential disaster spot

Sir,

As the above picture clearly shows, there is a sink hole, approximately one-and-a-half-foot in diameter, at the corner of 16th Cross, 3rd Main, Jayanagar, Mysuru.

It is a potential disaster spot and needs to be attended immediately.

In addition, there are a few improperly laid road humps without zebra cross markings on the third and fourth main roads, putting two-wheeler riders, particularly, in jeopardy.

Will the authorities concerned look into this and repair the damage before it is too late?

Experience the 'Sound of Happyness' at Forum Centre City Mall

Mysuru, Nov. 6- As part of Deepavali, Forum Centre City Mall is giving everyone a grand experience of the 'Sound of Happyness' décor to celebrate the day with much fun and fervour.

This year at Nexus Malls' portfolio of malls, patrons can also contribute and add to the 'Sound of Happyness' by purchasing bells and adding to a noble cause. The proceeds from the contribution will directly go to an NGO aiding the kin of those who lost their battle to COVID over the last 18 months.

Inspired by the majestic bell at temples, through its theme, the Mall will bring the feel of spirituality, positivity and the blessing of Gods and Goddesses. It is believed that deities remain manifested in temples where bells are rung.

The theme will also highlight the interesting significance of each part of the bell. The sound of the bell is considered auspicious which welcomes divinity and dispels evil.

The sound of the bell is said to disengage the mind from ongoing thoughts thus making the mind more receptive. Bell ringing during prayer is said to help in controlling the ever-wandering mind and focusing on the deity.

SUDDEN CARDIAC DEATH - WHAT CAN WE DO ?
Sudden cardiac death(SCD) is always a big dread for anybody due to its distressing consequences. The most common cause of SCD in Indians is heart attack followed by electrical disturbances (arrhythmias) and heart failure. Prevention of SCD can be done by controlling risk factors for coronary artery disease like a healthy diet, being physically active, maintaining an ideal weight, stopping smoking, controlling diabetes/ high blood pressure/ cholesterol levels, controlling stress and also controlling newer risk factors like lipoprotein a and Hs CRP levels. In competitive athletes and those going for heavy workouts, it is better to have a pre-participation cardiac screening (especially so if there is a family history of SCD or heart disease) to prevent risk. A small note about what can be done once anybody has sudden cardiac death, check pulse and start chest compressions without wasting time. Cardiac compressions should be known to everybody ideally. Many centres give training for the same. Defibrillators (AED) are kept in most public places and can be used to convert arrhythmia into normal rhythm. Using an ambulance during these times will provide personal care and equipment and save lives. In a situation of sudden cardiac death, start chest compressions, call for an ambulance if available and go to the nearest cardiac centre.

Mysuru, Nov. 6 (MTY&KS)- "Do not give your consent for marriage if you are below 18 years. Inform the Children Helpline or inform us if you are forced to get married by your parents or relatives," advised North Zone Block Education Officer (BEO) Jagadish to girl students.

He was speaking at the Open House programme organised by Rural Literacy and Health Programme (RLHP) and Childline-1098 at the Government High School in HUDCO, Bannimantap, here recently during which the students were provided information on Children's Helpline, Child Rights, Child Marriage and Protection Of Children From Sexual Offences (POCSO) Act.

Pointing out that the names of those who inform about child marriages and atrocities against minor girls would not be revealed, Jagadish said that stringent action will be initiated against those conducting child marriages and a fine of Rs. 1 lakh can be imposed and two years jail sentence can also be awarded.

Kidnapped boy found dead; one in custody

Emotions run high as villagers demand action against rampant gambling, betting

Hanagodu, Nov. 6 (Mahesh&BCT)- A nine-year-old boy, who was kidnapped at Hanagodu village near Hunsur on the night of Nov. 3, was found dead in the neighbouring fields with strangulation marks on his throat. The kidnappers had placed a demand of Rs. 4 lakh ransom to release the child.

Karthik

Javaraiah

An FIR had been filed at Hunsur Rural Police Station.

The child Karthik, studying at an English-medium convent in the village, was playing with his friends in front of his house.

After playing, the boy went to Hanagodu Circle to buy crackers for Deepavali and he was kidnapped at around 7.30 pm. His father Nagaraj, a vegetable vendor of the village, received a ransom call where Rs. 4 lakh was demanded. Later, a Police complaint was lodged by the boy's father.

Suspecting the involvement of local villagers who were known to the family, the Police had rounded off five persons on the same night after a thorough search for the boy.

Meanwhile, the kidnappers were alerted by the Police move and fearing that their identities would be exposed, strangulated the boy and threw the body amidst bushes near the Kuntakeri Lake at Hanagodu village. The body was discovered in the afternoon of Nov. 4.

Hearing the news, hundreds of villagers staged a protest demanding the immediate arrest of the kidnappers. As SP R. Chethan's vehicle approached the village, the protesters slept on the road registering their protest. The SP's vehicle was released only after assurances were made that the culprits would be arrested soon.

Based on the mobile tower location from where the kidnappers had made the ransom call, the Police have taken one Javaraiah into custody along with 10 other suspects. While all the others have been released, Javaraiah is still in Police custody. The Police have, however, not legalised the arrest and are still interrogating him.

As Javaraiah and other suspects were taken to Kuntakeri Lake where the body was found, villagers demanded that the kidnappers must be shot dead. The Police had a tough time in controlling the mob as emotions ran high.

Police said that Javaraiah, a resident of Dasanapura, was in deep debts as he was addicted to gambling had borrowed money to cater to his vices. Yesterday too, hundreds of villagers staged a protest under the leadership of Gavadagere Gurulinga Jangama Devara Mutt Seer Nataraja Swamiji and demanded the Police to take action against betting and gambling that are rampant in Hanagodu village and surrounding areas.

Hunsur MLA H.P. Manjunath visited the protest site and assured that he would call a public meeting with the Police and villagers next week where measures would be chalked out to take action against gambling and betting.

Here, the retaining concrete wall built during Wadiyar reign came crashing down along with boulders and mud and a steep gradient of loose soil has been formed and the road has become so unstable that one wrong step will lead to a fall into a ravine.

EXPERT TEAM VISIT

Following the series of landslides, the Public Works Department is seeking suggestions from the Indian Institute of Science (IISc.) in Bengaluru on repairs and restorations. Two scientists from the Geotechnical Engineering Department under Civil Engineering visited the spot this morning and collected soil and rock samples. This team had visited the Hill recently and today's is their second visit.

The entire area of the slide has been photographed to ascertain the type of vegetation. IISc. sources told Star of Mysore this morning that the Geotechnical Engineering Department will ascertain the problems of foundations, road structure, underground factors, soil and rock media accounting the presence of seepage and other body forces.

Using geomechanics solutions, they will suggest restoration measures. Geophysical and geotechnical testing and engineering seismology, soil and rock stability, seismic hazard and site response would be studied in the laboratories of the Department and a detailed report would be submitted within a week.

The IISc. team was accompanied by PWD Executive Engineer (EE) Harsha, Assistant Executive Engineer (AEE) Raju and Assistant Engineer (AE) Raghu.

"We will have to wait for IISc. report where a comprehensive retaining wall with a strong base will be suggested along with the technology to be used based on the soil and rock study reports. After we get the report, a proposal and estimate will be sent to the Government for fund release," he added. Harsha said that the rain must completely stop for the repair works to be carried out. "There is no road there now as soil has caved in and it should dry at least for 10 days under hot sun. It is impossible to even take a two-wheeler, forget heavy machinery for repairs," Harsha added.

Reservation should exist as long as it is sought, says RSS leader

Mysuru, Nov. 6 (PM&DM)- Even as the RSS (Rashtriya Swayamsevak Sang) is under attack, particularly from the Congress and some Dalit organisations, which allege that it is opposed to reservation in education and jobs, RSS Bengaluru Prachara Pramukh Radhakrishna Holla clarified that the RSS has a clear stand on the issue and wanted the reservation to exist as long as there are its seekers. Holla was speaking at the 'Dialogue with Editors' session held at Hotel Sandesh the Prince in Nazarbad here this morning.

Replying to a question on the RSS stand on the duration of reservation, Holla, who is also Bengaluru's Vishwa Samvaada Trustee, said that there is no ambiguity in the RSS stand on the reservation issue.

Maintaining that the RSS was for reservation, he said that the people need not have any doubts on the RSS stand, as it wanted the Reservation to continue as it was needed.

Replying to another question on alleged political interventions of RSS, Holla said that the RSS always worked for a comprehensive and inclusive development of the country.

Pointing out that the RSS would give useful suggestions that supplements the integral growth of the country, he said that the RSS always engaged itself in upholding social and family values. He further said that the RSS has a clear vision on various issues such as Industrial Growth, Education, Environment, Ecology, Cattle Conservation, Domestic Values etc.

RSS Bengaluru Prachara Pramukh Radhakrishna Holla addressing the gathering during the 'Dialogue with Editors' session held at Hotel Sandesh the Prince in Nazarbad, Mysuru, this morning as Mysuru RSS Sangha Chalak R. Vasudev Bhat looks on.

Responding to another query on recent demolition of temples in the State following a Supreme Court direction, Holla said that the RSS had told the Managements of many temples in 2018 itself for collecting and collating all available documents related to their existence. The RSS has also taken several measures for exploring and safeguarding all Hindu temples of Historical importance, he added.

Answering to allegations that the RSS was only an upper caste organisation, Holla dismissed the allegations as baseless and said that it only reflects the mindset of those making the allegations.

"The RSS is an organisation which believes in taking everyone along. It also does not discriminate between urban and rural population and also between regions and regional languages," he asserted.

Referring to allegations that the Government's National Education Policy (NEP) was driven by RSS ideology, Holla said that the RSS was for introduction of academics in Educational Institutions that inspires nationalism, self-reliance, self-subsistence and such others in keeping with modern advancements and requirements.

Responding to a query on the RSS stand on 'Manusmriti,' the Laws of Manu, which is believed to be the first ancient legal text, the RSS leader said that the RSS does not give importance for Manusmriti. "The RSS always gives prominence for the Indian Constitution and that is it," he said categorically. The RSS has dreams of a peaceful, happy, prosperous and harmonious country, which it is always working for, he added.

Star of Mysore and Mysuru Mithra Editor M. Govindegowda, Sadhvi Editor C. Maheshwaran and others took part in the session.

City sculptor Arun Yogiraj felicitated by District Minister

Mysuru District Minister S.T. Somashekar felicitating Arun Yogiraj yesterday at his residence in Agrahara for sculpting a unique Adi Shankaracharya statue. Along with Arun, his mother Saraswathi and wife M. Vijetha were also honoured by the Minister in the presence of MLA L. Nagendra, MUDA Chairman H.V. Rajeev, City BJP President T.S. Srivatsa and others.

It took nine months of continuous work from Arun Yogiraj to sculpt the Adi Shankaracharya statue. "It was my privilege to sculpt the statue. The process started in August 2020 and I was selected to make a sculpture. Before that, I had made a model of two feet," Yogiraj was quoted as saying by news agencies.

It was Jindal Steel Works which took up the project, and approached Arun and his father B.S. Yogiraj Shilpi. "I was given a 3D model photograph, but I was not happy. I did my own model after studying several statues and I prepared a 2-ft prototype," he said.

2-ft prototype

"The model was presented in front of the PM in September 2020 and there were four-five models brought from all over India. Among those, my model was selected and I got a call to make a 12-feet statue of Adi Shankaracharya," he added. Yogiraj said that a team of seven sculptors worked continuously for nine months around 14-15 hours a day to achieve the aim.

A single rock of about 130 tonnes was selected for the construction of the statue. After carving and cutting the rock, the weight of the statue remained about 35 tonnes. During the construction of the statue, a lot of coconut water was used on the rock so that the surface of the statue is shiny and also represents the brightness of Adi Shankaracharya.

"The present statue weighs 28 tonnes. We concentrated on a 360 degrees view of the statue and gave importance to structure, posture, gesture, realistic part, traditional aspects, the divinity in the face among the rest of the things," he said.

PMO personally monitors

After completing his MBA, 37-year old Arun got a lucrative job but resigned soon after to take up his traditional work. "The PMO was personally monitoring the progress. We selected the black granite rock (Krishna Shile) from H.D. Kote in Mysuru. After the works were completed in July this year, it was taken to Uttarakhand," he said.

The statue made its journey from the workshop of sculptor Arun Yogiraj in Mysuru's Saraswathipuram to the Samadhi sthal in Kedarnath by road until Chamoli Airbase from where it was airlifted by the Indian Air Force to Kedarnath. "I was supposed to be in Kedarnath yesterday but due to a tragedy in the family (Arun's father passed away on Sept. 30), I had to return home a week ago," he said.

Live streaming

The people of Nanjangud got to see the live coverage of Modi's visit to Kedarnath yesterday and also the inauguration of the reconstructed Samadhi of Adi Shankaracharya. An LED screen was erected at Kalamandira, located adjacent to the Srikanteshwaraswamy Temple in the town, to facilitate witnessing of the live event.

Live telecast was also held at Sri Kshetra Dharmasthala Manjunathaswamy Temple and Sri Male Mahadeshwaraswamy Temple in M.M. Hills.

HONESTY glitters more than Gold

Exhibiting exemplary honesty, a petrol pump worker at Kushalnagar in Kodagu District and a rice mill owner at Basaralu in Mandya District returned the gold ornaments they had found under different circumstances to the rightful owners. Finding the valuables coming back to them intact, the owners can't thank enough the honesty displayed by the finders though they could have easily pocketed the ornaments without a trace. Now read on...

Petrol pump staff finds suitcase with jewels

Mother and daughter duo checking their gold jewels in suitcase at Kushalnagar Police Station yesterday. Picture right shows petrol pump staff H.V. Somashekar receiving the cash reward from Dy. SP Shailendra as Inspectors Mahesh and Traffic SI Chandrashekhar look on.

Kushalnagar, Nov. 6 (Akshay & BCT)- A petrol pump attendant returned a suitcase that contained gold jewels worth more than Rs. 5 lakh to Rs. 6 lakh (a conservative estimate) to the actual owners. The suitcase was left on the main road by two women who had alighted a bus from Bengaluru in Kushalnagar.

On the night of Thursday (Nov. 4) at 10, a bus stopped in front of the TATA Petrol Pump in Kushalnagar amidst rain. Two women got down from the bus with bags and a black suitcase. They were waiting on the road while a car stopped in front of them. In a tearing hurry to get inside the car to escape rain, the women forgot the suitcase on the road. The car left the place moments later.

As it was closing time, H.V. Somashekar came out of his petrol pump office to close the gates after a long day. The black suitcase lying on the road amidst a drizzle caught his eye. He looked around only to see the area deserted. He did not open the suitcase; instead stood near it and called the Kushalnagar Police Station.

Dy.SP Shailendra and Circle Inspector Mahesh asked ASI Manjunath and two others to go to the spot and retrieve the suitcase, taking all precautions. They did not have any idea of what the suitcase contained and brought the same to the Police Station.

As they opened the box, they could not believe their eyes. It contained gold ornaments, all brand new. Not sure of the value of the gold, they also recovered cash worth Rs. 5,000 and two costly watches. There were some new clothes in it and the Police found a slip with a phone number.

When the Police called that number and told the woman on the other side who answered the call that they were calling from Kushalnagar Police Station, the woman immediately cut the call hearing the word 'Police' and switched off the mobile. The Police kept on trying but the mobile was not switched on.

However, at around midnight when the Police dialled the number, the same woman picked up the call. The Police told her about the suitcase found in front of the petrol pump. The woman till then had not realised that her black suitcase was missing and only after the call it dawned on her that she had forgotten the suitcase on the road that night.

The woman, who identified herself as Nafisa from Bengaluru, had given her daughter in marriage to a family at Kumboor near Suntikoppa and the mother and daughter had come from Bengaluru to attend a relative's wedding in Kushalnagar. Though they wanted to come to the Police Station at midnight, the Police refused as there were procedures to be completed. They were asked to come the next morning. Accordingly, they came to the Police Station, checked the box and found all the ornaments and other valuables intact.

The mother and daughter profusely thanked the petrol pump employee Somashekar for returning the suitcase with jewels and also thanked the Police.

Somashekar told the Police that he believed in hard work and was a God-fearing man without having a desire to grab somebody else's cash and gold. The mother-daughter duo and the Police gave Somashekar a cash award for his honesty.

Rice mill owner returns ornaments 'hidden' in ragi sack

Mandya, Nov. 6 (BCT)- Out of fear of being stolen by the thieves, a woman in Mandya had hid her gold ornaments in a ragi sack. But unaware of this, her husband sold the grains to a broker who then sold the same to a rice mill owner who traced the gold and promptly returned them to the woman. Now the husband has advised his wife to keep the ornaments inside a shelf.

The incident was reported from Kallinathapura in Nagamangala taluk where Kallegowda had sold his ragi to a broker unaware that his wife, Lakshmamma, had used it as a safe place to keep her jewellery. She had concealed the gold in the sack as she felt that thieves would not search the millet sacks and didn't even inform her husband about this.

Thinking that her valuables worth more than Rs. 4 lakh are safe, Lakshmamma went to Bengaluru to stay with her daughter for some time. In need of cash, Kallegowda sold the ragi sacks to the broker, who, after failing to find a buyer for the crop in the neighbouring villages, sold it to Sreenivasa Binny Rice Mill at Basaralu.

Lakshmamma with her ornaments that were 'hidden' in the ragi sack.

As Lakshmamma remained in Bengaluru for some days, the loss did not come to light. At the rice mill, when the workers were pouring ragi from one sack to another, they found a small bag and when it was opened, the mill workers were in for a shock as gold ornaments were found along with a bill for their purchase.

The workers immediately informed the mill owner Thimmegowda who was able to contact the owner of the jewellery store where the ornaments including bracelets, mangalsutra and earrings had been purchased. Meanwhile, Lakshmamma returned from Bengaluru and was shocked to see that her husband had sold the ragi sack where she had concealed the gold.

Thimmegowda in the meantime procured information about Kallegowda's address from the jewellery store owner and after ascertaining that Lakshmamma was the rightful owner of the ornaments, returned the same.

Later he told reporters that some of his workers had found the ornaments while pouring the ragi. "I immediately realised that someone must have concealed them inside ragi to prevent them from being stolen. I felt pity on the woman and fortunately, we found the bill of the purchase and finally Lakshmamma was traced," he said. Both Lakshmamma and Kallegowda heaved a sigh of relief as the hard-earned ornaments made out of their meagre farm income came back to their house with a lot of twists and turns. If the broker had sold this ragi to some other buyers or outsiders, they would not have got back the gold, said Lakshmamma, appreciating Thimmegowda's honesty.

WORD OF THE DAY

Bogus

Pronunciation: BOH-gus.
Meaning: Bogus means "not real or genuine"—it is synonymous with fake or counterfeit.
Origin: In the early 19th century, a "bogus" was a machine used to make counterfeit coins. No one knows for sure how this coin-copying contraption got its name, but before long bogus became a name for funny money or for a fraudulent imitation of any kind. The more common "phony" adjective followed.
Example: "Investigators said Talens ... cheated manufacturers and merchants of more than $31 million by producing bogus coupons that gave customers merchandise at steep discounts—or for free." — Jonathan Edwards, The Washington Post. 18 Sept. 2021.

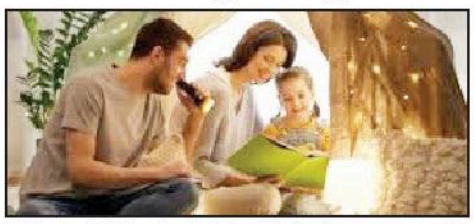
THE ODD WORD

Bagarre

Scuffle or brawl.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

A blessing in disguise



Meaning: The phrase 'A Blessing in Disguise' refers to something that at first appears to be bad or unlucky but is actually good.
Origin: The origin of the idiom 'a blessing in disguise' is believed to be mid-1700s, however scholars have yet to pin down the first usage of the term. The earliest instance of the term found in print was a 1746 work by English writer James Hervey titled Reflections on a Flower-Garden. There is no evidence that he coined the phrase.
Example: "My car broke down again, but maybe it was a blessing in disguise; I've been wasting too much time driving around anyway."

About Mali

Born in Thiruvidaimarudur, Thanjavur district in Tamil Nadu to Ramaswami Ayyar, Vid. T.R. Mahalingam (affectionately called as Mali) had an elder sibling Devaki and started learning singing from his maternal uncle Jalra Gopala Ayyar, who ran a famous music school. At age five, he observed other boys playing the flute and secretly, against his father's wishes, he picked up a flute and learnt to play the Viriboni Varnam entirely by himself.

His first concert was in 1933 at the Thyagaraja Festival in Mylapore, at the age of seven. At the concert, two stalwarts in the audience, Parur Sundaram Iyer and Musiri Subramania Iyer, were so impressed that they left the concert to bring ponnadai (shawls) for him. Mali was the Founder of the popular style of flute playing followed today by the Karnatak flautists. Before Mali, the style of flute playing was called Sarabha Sastri style, popularised by Sarabha Sastri's disciple, Palladam Sanjeeva Rao and did not have any gamakas and involved playing the flute in discrete bursts. Mali introduced new fingering techniques and a style of continuous flute playing that provided gamakas and an ability to better imitate the human voice. In Karnatak music, instrumental music seeks to emulate vocal singing which is considered the ideal, and it was only with Mali's style did all the nuances of Karnatak music become possible to be expressed on the flute.

According to his disciple Sundaram, he also enjoyed challenging his accompanists with difficult musical progressions, and tricking them into making mistakes. The only accompanist he gave full rein to was the elder violinist Papa Venkataramaiah, whom he considered his mentor. After moving to Bengaluru in 1955, he went to seclusion in 1958, playing very infrequently. From 1980 to 1985, he lived in the United States, performing for $2000 per concert. He returned to India and died of a cerebral haemorrhage in 1986 at the age of 60.
